

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

STOKKE & MUKAKO MERGE

We are more than happy to announce that the Stokke family continues to grow!

With the design award winning Mukako, a new and exciting Italian brand are added with products that are innovative and high in educational content for toddlers and kids, being our entry into the Play category.

A perfect fit with the Stokke brand in terms of early childhood development, product design and more, the designed in Italy, MUKAKO is the design-oriented alternative to your child's everyday play table but paired with the flexibility and durability of a table that will last your family for years.

We are looking forward to expanding our portfolio and work on innovative solutions with our new colleagues. This combines the knowledge that MUKAKO has built for the past 7 years for multi-activity play for kids with infinite games and accessories for toddlers and children and the strong brand and global company setup that Stokke created for decades.

Stay tuned for more information and details to follow and join us on this exciting part of our journey that is about to start now.
